Bibliogov, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 246 x 189 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .GAO reviewed the: (1) impact of congressional reductions in the C-17 aircraft s fiscal year (FY) 1991 budget on the prime contractor s subcontractor base; and (2) Air Force s and contractor s actions to correct supplier management problems. GAO found that: (1) reductions in the FY 1991 budget had little discernible effect on the subcontractor base, since only 6 of the 33 major suppliers reported any adverse effects, and none left the C-17 program; (2) six suppliers indicated that they had benefited from the budget reductions since the stretchout of their delivery schedules accommodated schedule slippages they had already experienced; (3) Air Force and contractor officials were not able to support their contention that the budget cut would damage the C-17 supplier base; (4) since June 1990, the contractor s actions to correct supplier management problems have resulted in some improvements, although progress has been slow and several areas remain that will require additional effort, including a number of overage, undefinitized contracts, inadequate cost and price analyses of purchase orders, and slow release of purchase orders to suppliers; and (5) contractor officials requested a review of their purchasing system to identify remaining weaknesses, and are currently analyzing the results.
