Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1895 Excerpt: . . . CHAPTER XI. BOMBAY. Arrival at Bombay--Cotton cultivation and transport--Road-making--Friction with Calcutta Public Works Department--Conference of Engineers at Poona--Death of Lord Elgin--Sir John Lawrence Governor-General--Freres Minute on Frontier Policy--Relations of Lawrence and Frere--Kattywar--Income-tax repealed--Minute on Local Taxation. Freres time was so fully taken up in public business with Lord Elgin during his last days at Calcutta that he had little leisure for leave-taking. The Parsee community presented him with an address of congratulation on his new appointment, which bore testimony to his influence in bringing about improved relations between the European and native communities. The Civil servants and leading people wished to give him a farewell dinner; but the Governorship of Bombay being a high prize, and one rarely conferred on a member of the India Civil Service, he conceived that his appointment to it might have raised some feelings of disappointment in the minds of his seniors in the service, and especially of the distinguished civilian who was then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to whom expectation at Calcutta had assigned the post, which made it the more courteous and considerate course to decline any public demonstration of satisfaction at his appointment. Sir George Clerk was anxious for him to reach Bombay before he himself left for England, that he might see him and hand over the reins of Government to him without an interregnum. He left Calcutta by the mail steamer on April 9, and joined Lady Frere at Madras on the 13th. Thence they...
